I. INTRODUCTION

The fiftieth anniversary of the School was celebrated in 1964 with a Continuing Nursing Education Conference. Programs of that Conference devoted to education, to nursing service, and to research in nursing attested to the Schools progress under Mildred Newton's leadership and its commitment to forwarding the purposes of state universities: to provide leadership in establishing goals and directions, to train leadership, to bring resources in teaching, research, and public service to the solution of problems of the state, and to offer continuing education.

II. TEACHING PROGRAMS

The undergraduate and graduate programs are accredited by the National League for Nursing. Accreditation for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing program was received in 1952 and for the Master of Science program in 1955. Resurveys in 1959, and 1967 brought continued approval for both programs.

A. Undergraduate Program

An undergraduate program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Nursing is offered for two types of students: those coming from colleges and universities without previous preparation in nursing, and those Registered Nurse students who have earned diplomas from hospital schools of nursing, or who have earned associate in art or science degrees from junior or community colleges or technical institutes.

1). Program for Students without Previous Preparation in Nursing.

In 1956 enrollment reached the maximum accommodated by the facilities. Beginning Autumn 1957 students declaring an interest in nursing were admitted to the College of Arts and Sciences in a pre-professional curriculum. Admissions to Nursing were limited to 150. Requirements for admission were: completion of the required subjects with a point hour of 2.00 or higher, satisfactory scores on the American College Test, satisfactory high school record, and satisfactory health status. Applications were processed by the Admissions Office. Selection was made by a committee comprising representatives from the Admissions Office, College of Arts and Sciences, and the School of Nursing. Students were admitted to the School of Nursing to begin study in the professional field in the Summer Quarter.

Experiment in an honors program.--The fifteen top students in the class admitted Autumn 1958 were invited to participate in an accelerated program under the direction of Alyce Polcyn assisted by Nancy Wright. They were offered instruction in the first year nursing courses equivalent to that of other students but allowed to progress at their own rate. They completed three quarter's work in two and proceeded to regular junior year studies one quarter early. All 15 students completed the program with a c.p.h. of 3.0 or higher, 6 graduated cum laude, 3 were tapped by Mortar Board, 6 graduated one quarter early and 9 elected a quarter's special study in leadership and graduated in June 1961. The teacher-student experiences in this project and students' reactions to them convinced the faculty that clinical study time could be markedly reduced without jeopardizing learning. The results of this experiment together with findings of Helen Dorsch's study utilizing afternoon experiences to meet course objectives were the basis for much of the planning for a new curriculum.

A new curriculum.--A new curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing Degree became effective for students admitted to the School beginning Summer 1962. It differed from the previous program chiefly in these ways: the credit hour requirement in Nursing was reduced from 110 to 96 with a reduction in the nursing laboratory hours; the liberal arts component was strengthened by incorporating the 45 hour basic education requirement outlined by the Council on Academic Affairs for all undergraduate curricula; students assumed the cost of their own maintenance in place of being subsidized by University Hospital; students followed the academic calendar of the University and were no longer required to work for the Hospital between Quarters.

This change permitted students greater freedom in managing their own affairs. University Hospital established part-time positions as ward clerks, Nursing Assistant, and Senior Nursing Assistant for those who needed employment and wanted it in the field of nursing. Other students sought employment through regular sources. Still others elected greater participation in political, social, recreational, cultural, or professional groups of the University. One of the greatest changes noted is that students became more self-directive in their studies.

Greater flexibility was afforded to faculty in selecting learning experience since University Hospital no longer subsidized students for costs of housing. The quality of instruction improved with the increased variety in learning experiences selected from within University Hospital, and from outside it in other health agencies and the community.

This curriculum change made it practical for the Dean of Women to end an era of assigning Nursing students together in one dormitory. In 1967, Neil Hall was designated as a residence for women in graduate and professional programs and Nursing students were extended the privilege of selecting their place of residence subject only to the rules governing all students.

In February 1959 when representatives from the National League for Nursing visited the School for an on-site assessment of its programs as part of the process for continued accreditation, one of their recommendations was that the School should place faculty with students in all agencies where they were assigned for learning. By Autumn 1960 arrangements were made for faculty to take charge of both didactic and clinical instruction in all of the Nursing courses. Facilities of Toledo City Health Department, Dayton Visiting Nursing Service, and the Columbus Public Health Nursing Service were utilized for learning experiences in public health nursing. Facilities of Children's Hospital were utilized for experience in pediatric nursing.

Currently another revision of the undergraduate curriculum is underway. This revision is in response to changes in the health care needs of society, changes in the system to deliver health services, and changes in the abilities and interests of students admitted to the undergraduate program. It is made possible by a project grant to the School of Nursing from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare awarded in 1968 for a period of five years to design, implement, and evaluate a curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

Methods of teaching have become more varied. A successful venture in 1961 in demonstrating procedures to students in their first nursing course via closed circuit television led to video taping a number of nursing techniques and activities for several courses. Film strips, transparencies for overhead projection, slides, charts, as well as movies, are widely used as adjuncts to lectures, discussions, and teacher-student conferences. Technological facilities in the new School of Nursing building will make it possible for faculty to become even more innovative. Listening centers in study areas mean that some class materials can be audio-taped, thus freeing both teachers and students from some scheduled lectures. As these centers become equipped with visual instruments even greater flexibility in teaching methods can prevail. One faculty member is already working full-time to prepare a cardiac care series for computer assisted instruction. Another is on leave this year obtaining experience in preparing materials for programmed instruction of nursing skills.

2). Program for Registered Nurse Students.

In keeping with trends nationally and with standards for accreditation the General Nursing Curriculum - a specialized program for Registered Nurses - was terminated in 1965. Registered Nurse students are admitted to study for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing. The Registered Nurse students can earn up to 70 hours of credit for science courses and for sophomore and junior level nursing courses by demonstrating their proficiency by examination. They earn credit for all other required courses in the usual manner. Admissions are limited to 64 per year and based on: high school record, achievement in their initial nursing program, and scores on the American College Test and National League for Nursing Graduate Nurse Examination.

B. Graduate Program in Nursing

Graduate Study in Nursing leading to a Master of Science Degree was offered first in 1954. Study in three clinical nursing fields - Medical-Surgical Nursing, Psychiatric Nursing, and Pediatric Nursing - was offered. Students may elect to prepare for teaching or for supervision and administration. In the beginning, students were required to write a thesis. Since 1967 they have been given the option between meeting requirements for the Degree through Plan A with a thesis, or through Plan B without a thesis.

Nine of the faculty in Nursing hold appointments in the Graduate School to direct the graduate study. One hundred eighty three students have been granted the Master of Science Degree.

1). Graduates earning the Master of Science Degree.

2). Doctoral Study.

A number of nurses continued their graduate studies in other Departments of the University and utilized nursing as one of their areas of study. Ten who completed requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in the past ten years are listed here together with their field of specialization and the topic of their dissertation.

Rose Marie Chioni.

Dissertation: The Relationships Between Predicted and Reported Success in One Collegiate Nursing Education Program.

Field of Specialization: Education (August 1964)

Loretta Mae Denman.

Dissertation: Patients Perception of the Therapeutic Functioning of Nursing Personnel in a Psychiatric Setting.

Field of Specialization: Education (December 1962)

M. Marian Kasabian Hoffman.

Dissertation: The Beginnings of Basic Baccalaureate Nursing Education: 1916-1929.

Field of Specialization: Education (December 1968)

Jewellean Smith Mangaroo.

Dissertation: The Relation of Cognitive Factors to the Academic Achievement of Juniors at The Ohio State University School of Allied Medical Professions.

Field of Specialization: Education (March 1968)

Wanda Elizabeth McDowell.

Dissertation: The Nurse-Patient-Physician Triad as a Self-regulating Mechanism: A Homeostatic Model for Measuring Patient Care.

Field of Specialization: Education (March 1962)

Lillian Williams Pierce.

Dissertation: Factors Related to Nursing Student's Perceptions of Nurses and Nursing.

Field of Specialization: Education (June 1965)

Fay Carol Reed.

Dissertation: Education for Professional Nursing: Foundations, History, Principles, Problems.

Field of Specialization: Education (August 1964)

Grayce McVeigh Sills.

Dissertation: Organization of Health Care for the Mentally Ill.

Field of Specialization: Sociology

(December 1968)

Marjorie Frances Sparkman.

Dissertation: Studies of the Adverse Effects of Oxygen at Atmospheric Pressure.

Field of Specialization: Physiology

(August 1968)

National Fund for Graduate Education.--Beginning in 1961-62 monies have been received from the National Fund for Graduate Nursing Education. Funds are allocated to programs accredited by the National League for Nursing on the basis of graduate student enrollment. They may be used to improve or expand the graduate program. Since 1962 this School has received $24,599.29 from the Fund. The monies have been utilized for visiting faculty, for faculty to visit other institutions, or attend scientific meetings, and for books, professional journals and equipment for the use of graduate students.

III. FACULTY AFFAIRS

A. General Information

Imogene M. King became the eleventh Director of the School of Nursing August 1, 1968. Already she is providing dynamic leadership in intensive curriculum study, research activity, and continuing education efforts. Preceding Dr. King have been these Directors: Jessie Harrod (1914-1917); Lois Campbell (1918); Gertrude Loessel (1918-1925); Lucy V. Ailer (1925-1929); Margaret Reilly (1929-1931 and 1933-1935); Alpha Johnson (1932-1933); Ruth Kuehn (1935-1938); Priscilla Hall (1938-1940); Frances McKenna (1941-1951); and Mildred E. Newton (1951-1968).

In 1951 when Mildred E. Newton came as Director of the School of Nursing there were 11 members on the faculty, only thirty six per cent of whom held masters degrees or higher. In 1968 when she retired there were 55 full-time regular faculty, 17 part-time faculty and 2 associates. All but two of the faculty held masters degrees or higher.

Competition for faculty is keen. (1) This School has been fortunate to have its well-prepared faculty and to have them remain. Twenty members have been on the staff for 10 years or more, and 12 for more than 15 years. Two have been granted Emeritus ranks upon retirement: Ethel M. Leazenbee in 1964 and Mildred E. Newton in 1968.

Under Miss Newton's leadership the faculty extended their influence beyond the School to local, state, and national levels. They have directed or participated in a number of workshops in Ohio and in other states. They have presented papers at state and national meetings. They have served on committees, commissions, and boards of local, state, and national organizations. They have served as consultants to federal government agencies and as members of their committees.

B. Honors and Awards

Faculty have distinguished themselves in many ways, some of which have been recognized by honors and awards.

To Mildred E. Newton has come the following awards:

- (1) Honorary membership in Mortar Board in 1961.
- (2) Central Ohio Alumnae Chapter Pi-Lambda Theta Award for outstanding service to the cause of education and for unselfish devotion to the problems related to the professional growth of teachers in 1962.
- (3) District 12, Ohio State Nurse's Association Distinguished Nurse Award for an educational administrator in 1963.
- (4) An oil portrait in recognition of her leadership to the School was made possible through gifts by the Classes of 1961, 1962, 1963, and 1964 and by faculty and alumnae. It was presented at a luncheon in her honor at the School's 50th Anniversary celebration.

(1) The National League for Nursing in its report NURSE-FACULTY CENSUS, 1968 reported 1,657 budgeted positions for faculty went unfilled in 1968, and 40% of those employed in faculty positions held less than master's preparation.

- (5) Mildred E. Newton Scholarship was created by the School of Nursing Alumnae in recognition of her unselfish devotion to the School.

Betty J. Thomas in 1967 and Leona J. Mourad in 1968, were selected by students to receive the Outstanding Nurse Educator Award. The School was presented with their portraits.

Elsie M. Williams received the Salon National LaBoutique des Huit Chapeaux Quarante Femmes Certificate of Merit in 1968 for outstanding service in the Nurse's Scholarship Program.

Frieda I. Shirk has received the following:

- (1) School of Nursing Alumnae Award for Outstanding Nurse Educator in 1964.
- (2) District 12, Ohio State Nurse's Association Distinguished Nurse Award for Research and Publication in 1965.
- (3) Ohio State Nurse's Association Honorary Recognition in tribute to her outstanding contributions to the nursing profession in 1965.
- (4) Alfred J. Wright Award for recognition of dedicated service to student organizations in 1967.

C. Visiting Professors

Visiting professors have been brought to the School to meet with undergraduate and graduate students, and with faculty. They include:

Mrs. Doris Lister, University of North Carolina
- 1968-69 - Dr. Hildegard Peplau, Rutgers University, New Jersey

IV. STUDENT AFFAIRS

A. Enrollments and Graduations

Admissions to the undergraduate program were limited to 215 in 1962. Students came from all over Ohio and about 35 each year came from other states. The first Bachelor of Science in Nursing Degree was awarded in 1943. Since then there have been 2226 such degrees awarded; 1441 of these in the past ten years. Prior to 1943 the Certificate of Graduate Nurse was awarded to 514 students who completed a three-year course, and the Bachelor of Science in Education was awarded to 89 who completed the five-year nursing program. Between 1943 and 1958 there were 156 Registered Nurses who earned the Bachelor of Science in Education Degree.

Table I. shows enrollments and graduations from the Bachelor of Science in Nursing program during each of the last ten years.

(2) graduations are those for Summer and Autumn Quarters only.

Students enrolling in the graduate program came from all over the United States. In Autumn 1968 the students came from 21 colleges and universities located in 14 different states. One hundred eighty three candidates have been awarded the Master of Science Degree since 1956 when the first student completed requirements. (See Table II).

Student Organizations.--As the enrollment increased the Student-Faculty Government Association became unwieldy. Reorganized in 1965, the SFGA became an executive governing body for the students organized into their respective classes. Regular functions of the individual classes are a Big-Little Sister party to welcome the new class, banding of the juniors, and a banquet for the seniors. The SFGA sponsors a picnic in the summer for a fun outing for all students and faculty. During the year it sponsors fire-side chats for students and faculty.

Honor societies are Torch Club, a local society, and Alpha Tau Delta and Sigma Theta Tau, national societies.

B. Honors and Awards

Many students have distinguished themselves in scholarship, in campus activities and in community service. They have served as presidents of dormitories and sororities, they have held offices in the Women's Self Government Association and in the Southside Campus Association. In 1961, Nicole Kessler Jeffers was voted Outstanding Sorority Pledge. In 1966, Katherine Lien was selected Outstanding Residence Hall Woman and presented an award for outstanding performance in scholarship and in active service to the residence hall system and to the campus community. In 1966, Barbara Kridler served as treasurer to the Woman's Self Government Association and was elected regional coordinator of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students. Mary Fran Olds was May Queen in 1960 and Pamela Anderson was the Homecoming Queen in 1964. In 1967, Patricia Chipley received the Outstanding Freshman Senator Award.

Students of Nursing who have been tapped for Mortar Board are listed here. Membership in Mortar Board is limited to 25 senior women from the entire campus selected for scholarship, leadership and service.

1959-60	Judith Bowers	1963-64	Judi Church
1960-61	Jo Ann Bell	1965-66	Constance Conklin
	Sandra George		Katherine Lien
	Saundra Linville	1966-67	Linda Coonrod
1961-62	Linda Amos		Nancy Sidner
	Mary Pauline Frame		Shirley Smith
1962-63	Barbara Schmittgen	1967-68	Margaret Lynn Schriver
	Sidne Whitehead	1968-69	Karen Louise Holub
	Kay Dunnick		Lois Miller

The William J. Means Award to a senior for excellence in Surgical Nursing was established in 1948. Recipients of the Award were not contained in The Ohio State University College of Medicine Vol. 11, 1934-1958, so all recipients are listed here:

1948	Jean Holscher	1959	Kay M. Whittington
1949	Bonnie J. Simkins	1960	Sue Whittington
1951	Virginia R. Crilow	1961	Jane E. Dornbirer
1952	Harriet W. Steece	1962	Ann L. Wolfe
1953	Jacqueline Day	1963	Jane A. McDaniel
1954	Jane Risser	1964	Miriam Dornbirer
1955	Patricia C. Shaw	1965	Linda Kidwell
1956	Frances A. Rings	1966	Helen Nungesser
1957	Mary J. Agnone	1967	Anne Hemmert
1958	Carol B. Barkatale	1968	Judith Allen Maxson

The Ruth Vrbanac Blosser Award to a junior in Nursing recognizes seriousness of purpose in nursing, demonstration of values and characteristics of a professional nurse, and leadership potential. It carries a check for $150.00 and has been award too:

Cheryl Leslie in 1965
Karen J. Dubois in 1966

Christie Lee Berner in 1967
Gretchen Sue Curtis in 1968

The Mental Health Association Award to a senior in Nursing recognizes the outstanding student in Psychiatric Oriented Fields of Study in Nursing. It carried a check for $50.00 in 1966 and 1967 and $100.00 in 1968. It has been awarded to:

Charlene F. Lederle in 1966

Nancy Sidner in 1967

Lura Elizabeth Yoder in 1968

The Sigma Theta Tau Epsilon Chapter Award recognizing the most outstanding senior in Nursing has been awarded to:

Nancy Sidner in 1967

Joan Elizabeth Doyle in 1968

Students have participated in many events off campus, too. The "Miss Ohio" chosen for the Atlantic City Miss America contest was Margaret Putnam Oates in 1958 and Carole Weiler in 1959. Margaret Cline was selected Miss Student Nurse and elected president of the Student Nurse Association of Columbus in 1968.

C. Financial Assistance

Grants and Fellowships.---Increasing assistance has become available to students to enable them to complete studies in as short a period as possible.

Since 1958 the following grants and fellowships have been made available to graduate students:

from the National Institute of Mental Health	$ 91,008.00
U.S. Public Health Service Title II	67,612.00
Department of Health, Education, Welfare
Professional Nurse Traineeship	973,239.00
Doctor's Hospital, Columbus	2,000.00

Since 1958 the following grants, fellowships, and scholarships have been made available to undergraduate students:

U.S. Public Health Service Title I	$ 16,780.00
------------------------------------	--------------

U.S. Public Health Nursing Traineeship Grant	$110,656.00
National Institutes Mental Health	19,111.00
Sealantic Fund	8,000.00
Ohio State University Scholarships	136,788.00

Assistance from sources outside the University.--Several organizations have selected Nursing students for scholarship awards. These include:

Bexley Women's Club Mary Alexander Conte Scholarship	$ 800.00
The Columbus Women's Club	2,650.00
Allstate Foundation	1,050.00
Suburban Women's Club	1,250.00
Cooper Bessamer Corporation	2,000.00

These have been particularly beneficial to students since 1962 when the students assumed costs for food and housing.

Loan monies.--Loan funds have been available through the University, through the Nurse Training Act of 1964, and continued through the Health Manpower Act of 1968. Monies loaned under the Nurse Training Act and the Health Manpower Act do not require repayment to begin until one year following graduation. Borrowers have ten years to repay the loan. Up to fifty per cent of the loan may be cancelled at the rate of 10 per cent for each year of full-time employment in nursing.

Since 1958 loans amounting to $312,645 have made it possible for 539 students to pursue studies in nursing. Of this total, $256,790 came from the Nurse Training Act Funds and has been granted to 366 students.

Bibbee Nurses Scholarship House.--Mrs. May Lynes Bibbee provided in her will that her house at 194 King Avenue be used to benefit nurses for at least ten years. The University sold this property and bought the Siebert House at 182 West Tenth Avenue in its place. It was opened to nursing students in Summer 1963. Since Autumn 1963 fourteen students have been housed there at costs of $100 per quarter in the Summer and $130 per quarter during other sessions. Students are selected on the basis of scholarship, financial need, and ability to live harmoniously with others. Their guest lists for dinners have included the President of the University, the Mayor of Columbus, faculty of the School of Nursing and of other Ohio

State University departments of instruction, and staff from the offices of the Dean of Women and the Housing Office.

These students have a high esprit de corps and in 1965 were awarded an engraved plaque for having the highest accumulative point hour average of all campus living units. In 1968 they won first place in the Dad's Sign Contest after receiving second and third place awards the two previous years.

V. CONTINUING EDUCATION

Special conferences for faculty in the School and for specified groups of nurses have been conducted locally each year. In response to requests from nurses, courses in epidemiology, public health nursing, public health organization, and human relations have been conducted for credit in Dayton, Mansfield, and Zanesville. Other courses designed for a special group of nurses to meet a specific need have been provided on a non-credit basis.

In 1965 the School of Nursing and Nursing Service of University Hospitals jointly sponsored a series of programs for employed nurses via a two-way radio-telephone network. This network system had been developed by the College of Medicine to provide continuing education programs in medicine to physicians in Ohio. The programs originate from University Hospital and are heard on FM radio stations in participating hospitals. An outline of the material to be presented and a set of slides are mailed in advance to be shown in conjunction with the lecture. A telephone hook-up allows participants in each hospital to ask questions of the program presenters. Utilizing requests from the nurses themselves, these programs are under the direction of Peggy Hull and Lorane C. Kruse with assistance from Robert L. Schweikart, Director of Communications for the Center for Continuing Medical Education. These have proved quite popular with the nurses as evidenced by the following chart.

Year	Number of Hospitals Participating	Number of Programs Offered	Number of Participants
1965-66	12	4	2,000
1966-67	24	5	5,000
1967-68	48	7	10,000
1968-69	60

A gift of money from Mrs. Frances Dean, an alumna of the School, made possible a special lecture series for all the nurses in the community beginning in 1960. While in Columbus the guest lectures met on campus with the Nursing faculty in round-table discussions. Nursing leaders who have been guest lecturers are: Marian Sheahan, Sr. Charles Marie Frank, Dr. Faye Abdella, Dr. Eleanor Lambertsen, and Dr. Rozella Schlotfeldt.

Since 1956 the series has been sponsored jointly by the School of Nursing Alumnae and the School of Nursing. Speakers in this joint series have been: Dr. Loretta Heidgerken, Mrs. Lucile Petry Leone, and Miss Helen Dunn.

VI. RESEARCH AND WRITING

Nurses have long been accustomed to being the subjects for research by psychologists, sociologists, and educators. They are equally accustomed to assisting physicians in their research by collecting specified laboratory specimens, by helping patients to stay on prescribed treatments, and by maintaining specified records. In the 1950's interest mounted nationwide for nurses to conduct their own research in nursing. Federal traineeships became available to support nurses in graduate study. Federal research grants became available to support individual projects. The School received its first research grants in 1961. Activity has been on-going ever since.

Listed here is the research conducted or now underway by faculty in the School of Nursing. The principal investigator and co-investigators are listed together with the title and description of the project.

Study of Nurse Action in Relief of Pain.

A methodology for studying nurse action was designed, a scale for estimating the patient's pain was developed, and a pain simulator was built. Numerous studies have been conducted by graduate students based on this initial work.

Its purposes have been to provide research training for nursing faculty so they can conduct research both independently and as members of interdisciplinary research teams, and to promote a climate wherein nursing research can be conducted freely. These are initial steps toward the long-range goals of extending graduate study in nursing to doctoral level and establishing a center for research in nursing at this University. Seven completed studies supported by this project are listed. The first four were reported at the American Nurse's Association Clinical Sessions in 1964 and reported in Evaluation of Nursing Intervention, Convention Clinical Sessions, No. 3 American Nurses Association, 1964, 58 pp.

The Nurse Monitor in a Patient Care System.

The objective of the study is to determine variables which must be considered to insure that patient homeostasis is maintained, factors which change the values of these variables, to identify consequent nurse, patient, and physician actions and to relate these factors in a model which will organize information to assist in the solution of hospital design and operational problems.

Influence of Nurse Upon Effects of Analgesics Administered.

Following administration of medication to relieve pain, 125 patients in University Hospital were observed at intervals of 20, 40, and 60 minutes to determine whether what the nurse said at the time of giving the medication made any difference in the relief of pain experienced by the patient. The amount of pain a patient was experiencing was measured by a pain rating scale based on factors of what the patient said, attention, anxiety, restlessness, perspiration, muscle tenseness, facial expression, sounds of discomfort and nausea.

VII. INSTRUCTIONAL FACILITIES

Upon the recommendation of Governor James A. Rhodes, the State Legislature appropriated funds for the expansion of The Ohio State University Medical Center. A building to house the School of Nursing was planned as an integral part of this expansion. Groundbreaking ceremonies September 21, 1966 were attended by Governor Rhodes, President Fawcett and other dignitaries. The traditional spade of dirt was turned by Anne Hemmert, president of the Class of 1967, and Mrs. Rena Daily Coppess who graduated in 1917 in the first nursing class. Together they represented 50 years of the School's existence. Faculty moved into the new building September 15, 1968 and conducted classes in it Autumn Quarter.

The total project cost, including equipment, was $2,400,000. State funds allocated were $1,234,426 and a matching Federal grant of $1,165,574 was approved as the first project funded under the Nurse Training Act of 1964.

The School, located at 1585 Neil Avenue, is a three story building with 81,600 gross square feet. The first floor houses the Administration suite, a 176 seat lecture hall, and two large seminar rooms. The second floor is devoted to classrooms, seminar rooms and a nursing laboratory. The third floor contains faculty offices and staff lounge. Locker facilities, a student lounge and service rooms are located in the basement. The school has a surface connection to the new Basic Science Building and a tunnel connection to Hamilton Hall.

The building includes a two-way closed circuit television system integrated with the Medical Complex and with access to WOSU-TV and commercial stations. Dial access to the Campus Listening Center for educational programs is also provided.

Major clinical facilities utilized for instruction are: University Hospitals with a daily average census of 820, Children's Hospital with a daily average census of 235 and Sun Ridge Convalescent Center. Dayton Visiting Nurse Association, Toledo Visiting Nurse Service, and Columbus Public Health Nursing Service are utilized for community nursing experiences.

VIII. GIFTS TO THE SCHOOL

In addition to monies which have been given to the Development Fund to be used for scholarships for students in Nursing there have been many other gifts given to the School of Nursing. During the past ten years gifts have been received from these individuals, organizations and business firms: Mildred E. Newton, June E. Ramsey, Matilda Sage, Mary Jane Schwartz, Guy H. Smith in memory of Elizabeth Baker Smith, Judith Jacobs Fund, School of Nursing Alumnae Association, individual classes of the School of Nursing, Torch Club, American Seating Company, Borg-Warner Corporation, Joerns Furniture Company, and Royalmetal Corporation.
